Acknowledgements

Central Washington University has continually supported Northwest Passage in its efforts to foster the sharing of research-based knowledge pertinent to the profession of teaching. Strong advocates in these efforts are Dr. Rebecca Bowers, Dean of the College of Education and Professional Studies, Dr. James DePaepe, Director of the Center for Teaching and Learning, and Dr. Osman Alawiye, Chair of the Department of Curriculum and Supervision, who has also been instrumental in funding Northwest Passage.

Of course, this journal would not be possible without our editorial board who review and rate manuscript submissions and our Executive Editor, Dr. Melvin Pedras, from the University of Idaho-Moscow who has been the driving force behind producing this outstanding journal. Also, our thanks go to all those who submitted manuscripts for review.

NWATE would like to invite Deans from the Colleges of Education, Department Chairpersons, and any other interested parties, to consider donating funds to help subsidize the cost of Northwest Passage.

Funds can be sent to: Dr. Barbara Phillips, NWATE President
